“What is hope?
It is a motion by which the heart desireth the good future”

Maister Peter Lowe, founder of The Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons of Glasgow, quoted from his book The Whole Course of Chirurgie published in 1597.

HOPE today

The College family of members, fellows and friends has a long history of professionalism married with compassion. It is in this knowledge that we have created the HOPE Foundation to extend our opportunity to make a difference and demonstrate our values beyond our everyday work.

The mission of the HOPE Foundation is to make a positive difference to the health of people living in challenging circumstances where access to quality healthcare is, for whatever reason, limited. We do this through support for charitable projects that break down barriers and bring people together to deliver quality healthcare to the most vulnerable locally, nationally and internationally. Our collective donations can make a huge difference to the lives of so many as demonstrated by our support for Glasgow's homeless community by supporting the Glasgow City Mission Winter Night Shelter introduce on-site medical services, and our partnership with King's College, London to support a surgical fellowship to help raise standards of surgical care in Sierra Leone.

The role of philanthropy

By acting together, our collective donations make a tangible difference to projects locally, nationally and internationally. The donations from College members will leverage gifts from other sources such as companies, College friends and philanthropic trusts. The HOPE Foundation can ensure that Gift Aid is claimed on donations from UK Taxpayers to boost their value by 25%. In addition, the College will cover all administration costs to ensure that 100% of your donation goes to projects and causes. Philanthropic projects often lead the way in solving problems and encouraging innovation. Therefore it is an essential part of our society and particularly relevant to healthcare. I am delighted that you will consider a donation to the HOPE Foundation and look forward to updating you about the impact we have made over numerous projects.
